Internship Opportunities through German Studies

Help refugees, work at a museum, or teach German and get course credit.

Whether you are looking to combine the interests of your major and minor, have the urge to apply your learning to practice, or want to experience what you can do with German outside of class, internships are a great opportunity.

German is partnering with many different institutions and is open to new collaborations. Contact Dr. Jacobs at joelajacobs@email.arizona.edu with your questions.
